

May Session 2017 (May 8 - 25)

Cost: $400 per three credit hour course (Note: The cost for Calculus I is $500)

Financial: Please see staff in Student Financial Services to determine options for payment and financial aid. In most students' cases, students will need to be registered for six hours over the entire summer to qualify for financial aid.

Residential Students: For the May term, students are permitted to live off-campus in housing they secure for themselves. On-campus housing for the May term is available for Warner University students at a rate of $100 per week. Students will be assigned rooms in residence halls designated for the May term (Raines and Fulton Halls). Students who live in Holland Hall can remain in the space designated by their lease agreement with Mainstreet Housing. Warner University lifestyle guidelines will remain in effect as expectations for all students during May term.

Course Prefix	Course Title	Hours	Day	Time	Rm	Instructor
ACC 2051-01	Principles of Financial Accounting An introduction to the accounting process from transactions through financial statements. Emphasis is placed on journal entries, including adjustments and closing entries. Special journals and subsidiary ledgers are also examined. Concentrates mainly on accounting for a sole proprietorship.	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	DB201	S. Seslar
ACC 2065-01	QuickBooks Boot Camp This is for the Quick Books Beginner. We take you through the whole accounting cycle and teach you how to setup a company in Quick Books. You will learn how to enter transactions, pay bills, process payroll, record receipts of cash. We will show you how to enter adjusting and closing transactions. You will learn how to prepare your basic financial statements and other important accounting reports. A must for book keepers in the Polk County Area.	3	MTWR	6:00-9:00 PM	Computer Lab	S. Seslar
AGS 3065-01	Agribusiness Management Provides an introduction to agribusiness management principles, application of economic principles, budgeting techniques, and principles of strategy in agribusiness. Students will be exposed to financial and tax management strategies and requirements imposed on agribusiness management by government regulatory agencies.	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	DB203	J. Sharpless
AGS 3165-01	Diagnosis and Control of Plant Diseases in Crops Grown in Florida Basic principles of plant disease diagnosis, pathogen identification, and biology of plants and pathogens for practical application of integrated disease management and control strategies to successfully manage and control these diseases.	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	DBBIO	G. Babb

May Session 2017 (May 8 - 25)

Cost: $400 per three credit hour course (Note: The cost for Calculus I is $500)

Financial: Please see staff in Student Financial Services to determine options for payment and financial aid. In most students' cases, students will need to be registered for six hours over the entire summer to qualify for financial aid.

Residential Students: For the May term, students are permitted to live off-campus in housing they secure for themselves. On-campus housing for the May term is available for Warner University students at a rate of $100 per week. Students will be assigned rooms in residence halls designated for the May term (Raines and Fulton Halls). Students who live in Holland Hall can remain in the space designated by their lease agreement with Mainstreet Housing.

Warner University lifestyle guidelines will remain in effect as expectations for all students during May term.

Course Prefix	Course Title	Hours	Day	Time	Rm	Instructor
AGS 3010-01	Small Farm Animal Production & Husbandry Raising and caring for farm animals even in small numbers, is both challenging and rewarding. This course is ideal for someone who envisions themselves as a hobby farmer with small farm animals (goats, chickens, rabbits and fish) or someone who wants to integrate these concepts in their life or ministry. It for those seeking a change of pace or wants to learn about country life...	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	DB206	J. Crews
BSC 4045-01	Medical Botany Three hours. Recommended: BSC 1010 . The history and uses of plants in medicine in the U.S. and other cultures around the world. Special emphasis is placed on plant medicine in European history and modern uses in other areas of the world.	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	Pres Conf	L. Sanchez
BSC 4045-02	Ornithology Ornithology is the study of birds, so get ready for three weeks of birds! This course will be structured around birds that occur in Polk County. We will start with the more common species and work our way to the less common species, learning along the way information about their behavior and life history, and how to identify them in the field. When you finish this course, you will be able to competently identify most of the local birds and have some understanding of why they're doing what they're doing at any given time.	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	Ryl Conf	D. Estabrooks
BST 1010-01	Life of Christ Introduces the student to the story of Jesus as recorded in the four Gospels.	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	PC235A	V. Graham
BST 2010-01	Understanding the Old Testament A study that reviews the unfolding divine revelation in the Old Testament. Emphasis is placed on explaining the message as it was related to the culture and historical situation in which it originated and also its relevance for today. Students must successfully complete this course or BST 2020 before enrolling in any Bible elective course. An exegesis project is required. Prerequisite: ENG 1020	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	PC235B	C. Varner

May Session 2017 (May 8 - 25)

Cost: $400 per three credit hour course (Note: The cost for Calculus I is $500)

Financial: Please see staff in Student Financial Services to determine options for payment and financial aid. In most students' cases, students will need to be registered for six hours over the entire summer to qualify for financial aid.

Residential Students: For the May term, students are permitted to live off-campus in housing they secure for themselves. On-campus housing for the May term is available for Warner University students at a rate of $100 per week. Students will be assigned rooms in residence halls designated for the May term (Raines and Fulton Halls). Students who live in Holland Hall can remain in the space designated by their lease agreement with Mainstreet Housing.

Warner University lifestyle guidelines will remain in effect as expectations for all students during May term.

Course Prefix	Course Title	Hours	Day	Time	Rm	Instructor
BUS 3006-01	Principles of Management This course will engage students in the discussion of classical and contemporary management principles and theories; explore the primary functions of a manager; and challenge students to apply the theories and principles from a Christian perspective. Prerequisite: BUS 2000	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	DB202	L. Johnson
BUS 4450-01	Leadership in Business This course examines and discusses the major theories of leadership and the traits, behaviors, and characteristics of effective leaders. To integrate and understand the impact of effective leadership upon real-world business situations, students will study ethical scandals, global crises, diversity, and other leadership issues. To promote principled leadership, students will consider the practice of leadership from a Christian perspective. Prerequisite: BUS 3006	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	DB204	T. Burdsall
BUS 4650-01	Social Media Management This course will look at the, as of now, most important social media platforms of Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, WordPress/Blogging, and YouTube and provide methods on how to effectively manage these platforms and develop influencers and monitor influencers to support their strategic goals.	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	PC209	S. Taylor

May Session 2017 (May 8 - 25)

Cost: $400 per three credit hour course (Note: The cost for Calculus I is $500)

Financial: Please see staff in Student Financial Services to determine options for payment and financial aid. In most students' cases, students will need to be registered for six hours over the entire summer to qualify for financial aid.

Residential Students: For the May term, students are permitted to live off-campus in housing they secure for themselves. On-campus housing for the May term is available for Warner University students at a rate of $100 per week. Students will be assigned rooms in residence halls designated for the May term (Raines and Fulton Halls). Students who live in Holland Hall can remain in the space designated by their lease agreement with Mainstreet Housing.

Warner University lifestyle guidelines will remain in effect as expectations for all students during May term.

Course Prefix	Course Title	Hours	Day	Time	Rm	Instructor
CED 3055-01	Faith & Baseball sports carry with it the same amount of history, tradition, and romanticism as America's National Past Time. The game of baseball is a highly competitive, statistically deep, and heavily superstitious game. As a result, a great deal of religious overtones and parallels exist between the game and practices of faith. The purpose of this class will be to discover the religious connections the game of baseball shares with the Christian faith. As well, this class will illuminate the manner in which religious culture imposes on our perception of the game. Finally, we will examine how the game of baseball can be used to intentionally extend the Kingdom of God on earth; whether this be through literal missions work, community service, or simply through clubhouse culture. If this course meets all of its goals, students will leave class with a greater appreciation for the game, a deeper walk with Christ, and practical skills to utilize their love of the game to grow the Kingdom of God on earth.	Few	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	PC206	T. Benbow
ECO 2012-01	Contemporary Economics This course provides an overview of the fundamental theories of micro and macroeconomics. The course is designed to provide a brief survey of the field of economics for the non-business major.		3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	DB208	L. Clark
ENG 1165-01	Science Fiction & Fantasy Creative Writing Do you battle with light sabers? Search for adventure in Middle Earth? Writing sci/fi and fantasy is the challenge for you. Learn to build worlds, develop a story arc, and prepare a short story for publication.		3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	DB209	L. Boulden
ENG 1010-01	Composition I This course will prepare students to ride the wave of academic discourse as they engage in discussions involving issues that affect the world. Students will develop their writing, reading, and critical thinking skills while learning how to organize and present their thoughts in effective and exciting ways.		3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	LH101	C. Maslanka

May Session 2017 (May 8 - 25)

Cost: $400 per three credit hour course (Note: The cost for Calculus I is $500)

Financial: Please see staff in Student Financial Services to determine options for payment and financial aid. In most students' cases, students will need to be registered for six hours over the entire summer to qualify for financial aid.

Residential Students: For the May term, students are permitted to live off-campus in housing they secure for themselves. On-campus housing for the May term is available for Warner University students at a rate of $100 per week. Students will be assigned rooms in residence halls designated for the May term (Raines and Fulton Halls). Students who live in Holland Hall can remain in the space designated by their lease agreement with Mainstreet Housing.

Warner University lifestyle guidelines will remain in effect as expectations for all students during May term.

Course Prefix	Course Title	Hours	Day	Time	Rm	Instructor
ENG 1020-01	Composition II This course builds on your success in ENG 1010 by further developing your writing and research skills through providing the opportunity for critical analysis of ideas present in various entertaining genres, particularly in the Gothic style. A grade of "C" or higher is required. Prerequisite: ENG 1010	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	LH102	A. Weeter

May Session 2017 (May 8 - 25)

Cost: $400 per three credit hour course (Note: The cost for Calculus I is $500)

Financial: Please see staff in Student Financial Services to determine options for payment and financial aid. In most students' cases, students will need to be registered for six hours over the entire summer to qualify for financial aid.

Residential Students: For the May term, students are permitted to live off-campus in housing they secure for themselves. On-campus housing for the May term is available for Warner University students at a rate of $100 per week. Students will be assigned rooms in residence halls designated for the May term (Raines and Fulton Halls). Students who live in Holland Hall can remain in the space designated by their lease agreement with Mainstreet Housing.

Warner University lifestyle guidelines will remain in effect as expectations for all students during May term.

Course Prefix	Course Title	Hours	Day	Time	Rm	Instructor
COM/ENG 2165-01	The Graphic Novel survey course examining the history, production, and cultural impact of the Comic Book industry and the rise of the graphic novel as a literary and cultural phenomenon. Through readings, lectures, guest speakers, and projects students will interact with key works in the history of the graphic novel as well as examine the role the graphic novel has played in American culture. This course counts as a Literature elective, as well as an elective in the English and Communication majors/minors.	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	TBA	T. Craig/S. Morgan
ENG 2041-01	American Literature: 1865- Contemporary This course offers a survey of American Literature after the Civil War. The course treats diverse examples of later American literature, including Realist and Modern texts; post 1945 works are also included.	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	PC204	K. Mills
FAS 2005-01	Music in the Western World Designed to introduce the student to the elements of music, including various instruments and instrument families, plus acquaint the student with representative music and composers from the 1600's to the 21st century. There will also be an opportunity for the students to have some fun learning to play wind instruments.	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	MUS01	P. Bennett
HIS 1040-01	Modern U.S. History This course is a general survey of United States history from 1865 to the present. Among the subjects covered are Reconstruction; the transformation of the United States from a predominately rural, agrarian society to an urban, industrial one; the rise of the United States as a world power; the role of religion in American society since the Civil War; conservative eras such as the 1920s and 1980s; and reform eras such as the 1930s and 1960s.	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	DB205	J. Hill/M. Buseman

May Session 2017 (May 8 - 25)

Cost: $400 per three credit hour course (Note: The cost for Calculus I is $500)

Financial: Please see staff in Student Financial Services to determine options for payment and financial aid. In most students' cases, students will need to be registered for six hours over the entire summer to qualify for financial aid.

Residential Students: For the May term, students are permitted to live off-campus in housing they secure for themselves. On-campus housing for the May term is available for Warner University students at a rate of $100 per week. Students will be assigned rooms in residence halls designated for the May term (Raines and Fulton Halls). Students who live in Holland Hall can remain in the space designated by their lease agreement with Mainstreet Housing.

Warner University lifestyle guidelines will remain in effect as expectations for all students during May term.

Course Prefix	Course Title	Hours	Day	Time	Rm	Instructor
MAT 1030-01	Liberal Arts Mathematics This course is intended for non-science majors who do not need advanced mathematics for their major. Topics include logic; number theory; the Pythagorean Theorem; linear, quadratic, exponential, and logarithmic functions; systems of equations and counting. The course concludes with an introduction to probability in anticipation of MAT 2000. A grade of "C" or higher is required in this course. Prerequisites: MAT 1010 or MAT 1020 with a "C" or higher	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	PC202	L. Hoi

May Session 2017 (May 8 - 25)

Cost: $400 per three credit hour course (Note: The cost for Calculus I is $500)

Financial: Please see staff in Student Financial Services to determine options for payment and financial aid. In most students' cases, students will need to be registered for six hours over the entire summer to qualify for financial aid.

Residential Students: For the May term, students are permitted to live off-campus in housing they secure for themselves. On-campus housing for the May term is available for Warner University students at a rate of $100 per week. Students will be assigned rooms in residence halls designated for the May term (Raines and Fulton Halls). Students who live in Holland Hall can remain in the space designated by their lease agreement with Mainstreet Housing.

Warner University lifestyle guidelines will remain in effect as expectations for all students during May term.

Course Prefix	Course Title	Hours	Day	Time	Rm	Instructor
MAT 2000-01	Statistics This course is designed to teach the basic skills in descriptive and inferential statistics. Experience in collecting, organizing, and summarizing data, as well as drawing conclusions on the data, are given emphasis. Students will learn how statistics is used as a powerful tool in decision-making processes. Use of appropriate technology, such as graphing calculators and computer software to better understand and interpret data, are developed throughout the course. Statistics as a foundation for research methods is emphasized. Prerequisites: MAT 1030 or 1040 with a grade of "C" or higher	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	PC203	B. McDonald
MAT 2130-01	Calculus I This course is designed for students with strong skills in college algebra and trigonometry and it covers limits, continuity, differentiation and its applications. Prerequisites: ENG 1020 and MAT 2024	4	MTWR	9:00 - 1:00	TBA	S. Falcao
PED 1000-01	Lifetime Wellness This course is designed to explore the relationship between overall wellness and Spiritual, mental, emotional, social, & physical health. Topical discussions (for the 18-22 year old demographic) also include human sexuality, drug & alcohol use, and relationships.	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	TBA	T. Hall
PED 2020-01	Introduction to Exercise & Sports Studies During this course you will explore the different academic disciplines and undergraduate specializations in the area of Exercise and Sport Studies and have a better understanding of how you can greatly impact the health of others by pursuing a degree in this field of study. You will also discover what types of jobs are available and professional organizations you can join that are related to Exercise and Sport Studies.	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	TBA	M. Davin

May Session 2017 (May 8 - 25)

Cost: $400 per three credit hour course (Note: The cost for Calculus I is $500)

Financial: Please see staff in Student Financial Services to determine options for payment and financial aid. In most students' cases, students will need to be registered for six hours over the entire summer to qualify for financial aid.

Residential Students: For the May term, students are permitted to live off-campus in housing they secure for themselves. On-campus housing for the May term is available for Warner University students at a rate of $100 per week. Students will be assigned rooms in residence halls designated for the May term (Raines and Fulton Halls). Students who live in Holland Hall can remain in the space designated by their lease agreement with Mainstreet Housing.

Warner University lifestyle guidelines will remain in effect as expectations for all students during May term.

Course Prefix	Course Title	Hours	Day	Time	Rm	Instructor
PED 4024-01	Org. & Admin. of Phys. Ed. & Intramurals This course offers a study of the needed administrative techniques and procedures for successful program management. Budgeting, computer software applications, and consideration of the various types and uses of evaluation in physical education and recreation. Prerequisite: PED 2020	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	TBA	C. Moskovits

May Session 2017 (May 8 - 25)

Cost: $400 per three credit hour course (Note: The cost for Calculus I is $500)

Financial: Please see staff in Student Financial Services to determine options for payment and financial aid. In most students' cases, students will need to be registered for six hours over the entire summer to qualify for financial aid.

Residential Students: For the May term, students are permitted to live off-campus in housing they secure for themselves. On-campus housing for the May term is available for Warner University students at a rate of $100 per week. Students will be assigned rooms in residence halls designated for the May term (Raines and Fulton Halls). Students who live in Holland Hall can remain in the space designated by their lease agreement with Mainstreet Housing.

Warner University lifestyle guidelines will remain in effect as expectations for all students during May term.

Course Prefix	Course Title	Hours	Day	Time	Rm	Instructor
PSY 2000-01	Introduction to Psychology This course is a survey of the field of psychology as a social science with particular attention to the theories, methods, and issues which characterize it and the processes which are basic to human behavior.	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	TBA	A. Hankins
PSY 3050-01	Abnormal Psychology A study of the major mental and emotional disorders, including an introduction to the DSM. Prerequisite: PSY 2000	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	TBA	J. Rigel
SCI 1030-01	Liberal Arts Chemistry A survey of chemical principles designed for the non-science major. These topics are presented with an emphasis on everyday applications of the chemical principles.	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	TBA	K. Grogan
UNV 1010-01	Literacy in the 21st Century The introduction of digital technologies has had a significant impact on how people read and write. In this course students will explore new literacy environments, emerging genres of electronic disclosure and communication, digital literacy practices, ethical considerations and be exposed to various ways to use a computer efficiently to communicate in the digital environment. Prerequisite: ENG 1010	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	TBA	D. Hofstrom
UNV 4095-01	Integrated Seminar A culminating course for seniors designed to examine the principles of a Christian worldview to assist these young adults in developing a faith basis for decision making and life-long learning.	3	MTWR	9:00-12:00	PC236	J. Moyer
HRT 2000-01	h.e.a.r.t Summer Session (May 15 - June 3) An applied, 3-week residential missional survey experience where students are immersed in topical areas significant to situations and conditions experienced in subtropic developing areas. This course cannot be counted towards the credit hour requirement for the full-term h.e.a.r.t. experience.	3	MTWRF	10:00-4:00	h.e.a.r.t.	P. Murphy