PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE FOR GRADUATES

Today marks one of the biggest events in the lives of our graduates. It is a milestone to complete a university degree. We welcome all our special guests to this graduation ceremony this morning. Unfortunately, this year we are not able to be together because of the Coronavirus. You have persevered through so much to graduate, and this pandemic will not stop you from what God has for you in the next chapter of your life.

To the family and friends, you have been a part of the journey of these graduates. We thank you for your part in helping them achieve this milestone. Graduation would not be possible without your sacrifice and commitment.

To the graduates, congratulations on completing your academic journey at Warner University. We are proud of your accomplishments. It has been a privilege to have you as a student at Warner University. Now you become one of our 10,000 alumni who are making a difference around the world.

Warner University is committed to guiding individuals toward Christ-like character and intellectual maturity while equipping them to serve. To that end, everything we do at Warner University is geared toward making that mission a reality. Today is the beginning of a new chapter as you leave this place to lead and to serve.

May God continue to guide you on your journey in life. Again, congratulations. We are proud of you!

David A. Hoag, Ph.D.
President, Warner University

SHERIFF GRADY JUDD
POLK COUNTY SHERIFF'S DEPARTMENT

After beginning his career with the Polk County Sheriff's Office as a dispatcher, Grady Judd quickly progressed through every rank – from Corporal to Colonel. As a small child growing up in Polk County, Grady had dreamed of being Sheriff. In 2004, Polk County overwhelmingly elected him to serve as their Sheriff, fulfilling that childhood dream.

Sheriff Judd has earned higher education degrees through the Masters level and has graduated from the FBI National Academy, as well as several other prestigious law enforcement academies, and has taught 23 years at both the University of South Florida and Florida Southern College. He is currently the Immediate Past President of the Major County Sheriffs of America, a national organization serving counties with a population of 500,000 or more. Grady realizes that having proper priorities in place is important to success. Faith, family, and the men and women of the Sheriff's Office along with the citizens of Polk County are the priorities that direct his life. Grady has been married to his wife Marisa for 47 years, and has two grown sons, and thirteen grandchildren.

ACADEMIC CUSTOMS AND DRESS

Modern academic regalia evolved from the kinds of apparel worn by monks and students in the 11th and 12th centuries to keep warm in the medieval castles and halls in which they studied. Academic life as we know it today began in the Middle Ages—first in the church, then in the guilds. The teaching guild was the Guild of the Master of Arts, and the Bachelor was the apprentice of the Master. Their dress was the outward sign of stature and responsibility. Academic regalia was a visible manifestation—in color, pattern, and design—that unified those of common discipline and like purpose. The four most common academic degrees are the associate, baccalaureate, master, and doctorate. The name of each degree comes from medieval university custom. American colleges and universities use a common system of regalia including the gown, the cap, and the hood.

The Gown

The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any dress rank or social standing. It is usually black for all degrees except the associate. For the associate's, bachelor's or master's degrees, the gown has no trimmings. For the doctoral degree, it is faced on the front with velvet and has three bars of velvet on the sleeves.

The Hood

The hood creates a shield of the institution and discipline. The color of the velvet facing of the hood indicates the discipline and the satin lining colors designate the college or university granting the degree. Discipline colors commonly seen on hoods include: Art & Humanities—white, Science—yellow, Education—light blue, Medicine—green, Music—pink, Business—brown, Law—purple, and Theology—scarlet.

The Cap

The freed slave in ancient Rome won the privilege of wearing a cap, and so the academic cap is a sign of the freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity with which scholarship endows the wearer. The color of the tassel is often black but can also represent the institution or the discipline. A gold tassel is reserved for those who hold a doctoral degree.

Latin Honors

Warner University bachelor graduates may wear gold honor cords if qualified for Latin honors: Cum Laude (3.5–3.69), Magna Cum Laude (3.7–3.89), or Summa Cum Laude (3.9–4.0). Warner University master candidates may wear gold honor cords if qualified for distinction: 4.0 GPA.
